DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's response of 31 October 2006 argues that the Restriction requirement is improper because the instant application is a national stage application based on a PCT application, and therefore, unity of invention under 37 CFR 1.475 should have been followed.

Applicant is correct and the previous Restriction is withdrawn. A new Restriction follows.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 11-13 and 16-18, drawn to polynucleotides, vectors, host cells and methods of use.

Group II, claim(s) 14-15 and 20, drawn to a polypeptide and composition thereof.

Group III, claim(s) 19, drawn to an antibody.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I is directed to the first named product and first method of use. The invention of Group II is a separate product that does not contain the special technical feature of the first named invention, namely the nucleotide sequence of SEQ ID NO:1. In fact, the products of Groups I and

Art Unit: 1647

II are chemically and structurally distinct. The invention of Group III is directed to yet another product that does not share the same special technical feature of Group I.

Applicant argues in the response of 31 October 2006 that in four previously filed applications, polypeptide and a corresponding encoding nucleotide sequence were deemed as sharing a special technical feature. This argument has been considered, but is not persuasive. Unity of invention is based on the first claim of the first named invention. In the instant application, the first invention is a nucleic acid molecule of SEQ ID NO:1, or one having 90% homology to said nucleic acid molecule. It is not required to encode any particular amino acid sequence, only that it encode a protein with some nebulus activity. Therefore, the special technical feature is considered the nucleic acid sequence. The protein of Group II does not possess the nucleic acid sequence of Group I, therefore, it does not share the same special technical feature and there is no unity of invention. Furthermore, the protein of Group II is a second named product and unity of invention does not provide for multiple products or multiple methods of use.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1647

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
